During 2 of 3 meal preparation observations in the home during the survey on 9/7 - 9/8/21, staff completed various cooking tasks without prompting or assisting clients to participate. For example, during dinner preparation on 9/7/21 at 5:10pm, Staff G prompted client #2 to the kitchen to assist with meal preparation. Once in the kitchen, client #2 was assisted to pour peas and mixed fruit into a pot and a bowl. The client then left the area. The staff proceeded to complete various other tasks without any client involvement including using an electric can opener, stirring food on the stove, filling a pitcher with juice, operating the microwave, making sloppy joe sandwiches and putting food into serving bowls. Upon arrival to the home on 9/8/21 at 6:25am, oatmeal was noted cooking on the stove and four slices of bread were in the toaster. During additional observations of breakfast preparation in the home on 9/8/21 at 6:32am, Staff C prompted client #6 to the kitchen to assist with meal preparation. Once in the kitchen, client #6 was assisted to operate the toaster once. The staff proceeded to make more toast, add butter and jelly to the toast, pour juice into a pitcher, cook scrambled eggs, and place food into bowls without any client involvement. During an interview on 9/8/21 with Staff C, when asked what cooking tasks clients assist with, the staff stated, "Lately not any...just little stuff." W 383	Continued From page 11 During observations in the home throughout the survey on 9/7 - 9/8/21, the keys to the drug storage area were kept on a desk in the office of the home. Throughout the observations, various staff retrieved the keys to the drug storage area. The keys were accessible to anyone in the home. Interview on 9/8/21 with Staff A (the medication technician) revealed the keys to the medication closet are usually secured in a box with a code to access them. Additional interview indicated the keys were likely left unsecured to allow fill-in staff, who don't know the code, to access them. Interview via phone on 9/8/21 with the facility nurse indicated the keys to the drug storage area should be secured in a box in the office with a code for access. Additional interview revealed the keys would also be kept on the person responsible for dispensing medications in the home, if not in the lock box. Interview on 9/8/21 with the Qualified Intellectual Disabilities Professional (QIDP) confirmed keys to the medication closet should be kept in a combination lock box located behind the door in the office of the home.
